Parts System for Moscow Cars Criticized

By JOHN WEYLAND MOSCOW (AP) — One of Moscow's three car dealers has

V. Osiko, director of the car and parts distribution center LOUISIANA - Partly cloudy near Yelokhovka Cathedral, voiced his complaint in the popular Moscow newspaper Vechernaya Moskva - Evening Moscow. He said his showroom is too small and always overcrowded.

"Many people coming in are surprised to find out how long

"You have to wait in line to make an application. You leave a postcard with your address. You wait. Finally you are invited to come back.

"But not to get your car. First, you have to pay for it." Osiko did not mention the prices, but they are high, A $4,~ 000 Moskvich is smaller than an .34 American compact. Other models are similarly expensive.

Despite this and the many 48 difficulties involved, the Soviet public shows every intention of bringing a full-fledged car civilization to this country. Passenger car production is scheduled to rise from 200,000 last year to 800,000 in 1970.

The director said the buyer had another wait of some months after paying his money. When the buyer finally drives off in his new car, his troubles are not over.

"You discover you need a spare part," Osiko said. "Something simple, like a float for a carburetor or glass for your tail light. Something that should cost only a few kopecks.

"But it is impossible to find this on our shelves."

Osiko said the shortages arise because all spare parts are given to a giant combine called Zelkholz Tekhnika and "this organization, naturally, provides first for its own branches. What is left goes to retail outlets. Unfortunately, this is very

Minister Couldn't Drive

By GRANVILLE WATTS LONDON (AP) - Barbara Castle, 55, buoyant redhead, wept when Prime Minister Wilson appointed her British transport minister.

She throws her energy completely into everything she undertakes.

"When you're a woman in politics, you have to prove yourself three times over - you can't be average," she says.
"It was tough at times, but never in my whole life have I felt like giving up politics," she Political observers say Wilson knew what he was doing when he gave Mrs. Castle the nation's complex and frequently snarled traffic problems. The task of managing Britain's often antiquated road and rail system is one vitally tied in with the big rescue operation which Wilson seeks for the ailing economy. Mrs. Castle put it in a nutshell when she told newsmen after her appointment in December last year: "The problems are there for us to see. We live with them. The misery of the computer, the death toll on the road and the fact that traffic will come to a standstill unless we have some new ideas."

Doother mothers have this problem? --CLOTHES HOARSE

Dear C.H.: Do they ever -including this mother of a 16year - old!

The best solution is: give your daughter her clothing allowance and insist that she shop for herself, taking a teen friend along for moral support.

Be sure the friend has good taste and make it doubly positive the budget won't allow for many mistakes. You'll be surprised how few your girl makes once she's free of what SHE thinks is a fidgity, impatient, disapproving and perhaps untruthful mother. (Even though you aren't, this is how you seem to an insecure teen facing her close-up bulges in the dressing room mirror.)

P.S. If you don't approve of her choices, keep quiet. You can't build self-reliance by knocking it down.

CATTY OR KITTENISH? Dear Helen: This gal calls me up just to "talk" about twice a week. Lots of times I'll be busy with the baby and won't get to the phone till the third or fourth ring.

Invariably she asks, "Did I wake you up?" She calls around noon and she should certainly know the mother of a year-old baby gets up and stays up around 6 a.m. I tell her NO, but then she says, "You sounded sleepy." I get the impression she'd like to prove I'm lazy. Is she kittenish, or catty? - WIDE AWAKE

GET THE FEEL OF ALL-ELECTRIC LIVING WITH EITHER OF THESE APPLIANCES ... AND AP&L'S INSTALLATION ALLOWANCE WHEN YOU BUY 'EM!

Did you know that hundreds of dealers throughout Arkansas are making it easier than ever for you to enjoy modern Flameless cooking and clothes drying this month? Instead of simply featuring a Range or Dryer, many dealers offer a price that includes installation in your home - the Range is installed ready-to-cook - the Dryer is installed ready-to-dry! That means you have no concern over having the installation made - your dealer takes care of all that! It really IS a wonderfully easy way for you and your family to step up to the modern all electric living so many of your neighbors enjoy now.

RANGE--$30 * DRYER--$15

Yes, whether your dealer offers an installed price or not, AP&L gives you an installation allowance with either appliance you buy. All that's required is that the Range replace a fuel-fired stove and that both appliances be installed in a residence served directly by AP&L. So see your dealer right now - tell him you'd like to buy on Reddy Plan - the easy way to pay in small monthly amounts on your electric service bill!

THE WELL CHILD

Love, Bit of Frustration Is Good 'Diet' for Child

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q-Our 2-year-old daughter won't mind a thing we tell her. When we try to force her, she has tantrums. She gets plenty of spanking but nothing seems to work. She isn't spoiled. What is your

A-All of us have our daily frustrations but there is a great deal of difference in the way we react to them.

If you want a happy baby you must frustrate him a little every day starting in infancy. Frustration is one of the facts of life he will have to learn to live with. Small doses early can be compared to vaccination; they prepare your child for the bigger frustrations that are bound to come. The baby whose parents instantly give him first the bottle, then toys, money, a bike and an auto as he grows older will not be as welladjusted an adult as the one who learns that he will receive none of these on demand.

He should learn that he must earn them through patience or his own efforts or do without.

You seem to have made a bad start with your daughter but age two is not too late to start a course of small frustrations and is much better than waiting until she is four or

Spanking doesn't help, as you have discovered, so why not show her at all times that you love her even when failing to comply with her de-mands and forget the spankings which she may interpret as a withholding of love, the most frightening thing that can happen to a child.

It will soon be Halloween again and the trick-or-treat experts will get you if you don't watch out. Motorists NEW YORK (AP) - Fred should be extra cautious when driving during the early eve-"Why is everybody so sur-

A FREE NATION on Sept. 30 after 81 years of foreign rule, Botswana is the former British protectorate of Bechuanaland. The new country faces many problems. Almost the size of Texas, its population numbers only 500,000, mostly poor villagers. Mostly desert and swamp, it has few resources and little industry and only the eastern fifth is suitable for farming. It is surrounded by white-ruled neighbors upon whom it must depend for an outlet to the sea. Two other nearby British protectorates are also becoming independent—Basutoland, new name Lesotho, on Oct. 4 and Swaziland, the richest in resources, next year.

Last January, a gleaming white ship eased into the small Nicaraguan port of Corinto for a visit that was to last almost a year. She was the hospital ship Hope, a project of the American People-to-People Health Foundation, Inc., making her first call in Central America. On board were 130 American doctors, dentists, nurses and technicians. The Hope's mission ends in November, but she will leave behind a legacy of medical know-how and good will. By the time she sails, her staff will have used their skills to train some 600 Nicaraguan medical personnel and benefited more than 100,000 others through treatment, immunization and programs in nutrition.

A Nicaraguan boy leads his blind father along the pier next to the Hope. Word of the mercy ship's visit quickly spread and people traveled hundreds of miles seeking treatment.

Bath Coup Saves Trick

The Bath coup derives its name from the resort town of Bath in England. Bath was a great whist center in the 19th century and the play was supposedly first used PRISCILLA'S POP there. Specifically it consists of letting an adversary's king hold the trick when you have both ace and jack. If the adversary continues the suit you make both your ace and jack. If he shifts you may gain time to go after tricks somewhere else.

Today's hand which is taken from Ely Culbertson's Red Book illustrates an effective use of the Bath coup.

If South takes the heart lead with his ace East will get in with the ace of diamonds and give his partner two heart tricks.

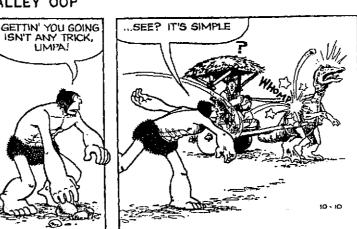

When South ducks the first continues hearts he allows THE WILLETS South to make his jack good. If he leads another suit South will draw trumps and knock out the ace of diamonds whereupon the jack of hearts will be discarded on one of dummy's long cards in that While this hand is 30 years old, we have modernized the bidding a great deal. East's jump to three spades was not the sort of bid you would meet in Culbertson's day. You don't see it too often these days except in expert competition where most modern ex-perts use that particular jump as a sort of preempt. In this case it puts considerable strain on North and South, particularly on North, who well might have passed at four clubs instead of going on to the game.

There Came a Day-'Lost Atlantis' Real, No Legend

n football a certain Saturday is bound to come and Oct. 8 was the Saturday that destroyed Arkansas' 24-game winning streak in regular season play.

The Razorbacks still are a magnificent team; but last Saturday Baylor had the edge. You might say the Bears won beause they didn't make a mistake. Every time Jon Brittenum got set for a pass he found all his receivers covered. From the radio report it reminded this writer of LSU's sterling performance in downing Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's Day.

Anyway the pressure is off. Now they'll be laying for Baylor rather than our team. And Bay-🗫r, without a Southwestern Conference title since 1924, deserves the good fortune to go all the way.

One of the legends that has inspired the imagination of men for thousands of years is the story of Atlantis, the "lost continent" which an earthquake plunged beneath the ocean.

The legend has come down to his from Plato's Dialogues, the Greek philospher having gotten the story indirectly from Egypt. ian historian-priests.

But Sunday's newspapers carried a UPI dispatch from Woods Hole, Mass., revealing that new scientific discoveries now make Atlantis a real piece of history rather than a legend, The clue which brought this out was a petrified monkey head that had been recovered from a spot in the Mediterranean, The discovery was symbolic because this particular species of monkey was the one kept in palaces in

Home Rule for D. C. Up in Senate
